On our journey through life,

each day offers a new beginning

to choose from the many roads ahead.

The paths which we follow

are ours alone to decide.

We expand our horizons...

by pursuing the many opportunities which life has to offer.

Participation in the various activities which abound

allows us to discover who we are and
where we are going.

Although the path before us is sometimes rough

we must never lose our way.

On our journey, we can never turn back,
for way leads unto way

yesterday can never be recaptured,
for only the future lies ahead.

Vincent Magnotta '02

I was presented with the daunting task of writing my feelings about Vince in a short paragraph. This isn't a challenge due to the lack of feelings or times with my Big Head (one of our many affectionate names for Vinnie), but because there isn't enough space for the words to write about Vin. Being friends with Vin was nothing short of an amazing experience. From incessantly making fun of Josh for being from NJ, waking me up from naps with his "music," late night phone calls to Taco Bell headquarters with Farm at three in the morning while trying to sleep, and Woodstock. As much pain as myself and everyone else involved with Vinny went through, I wouldn't trade my experience with Vinny for the world or anything else for that matter.

-Rhoads- '02

Vince Magnotta will be remembered for as long as time will exist. He was a special person that touched my life as well as many others. His spirit and dedication that he had for rugby, weightlifting, and for Phi Mu Delta was so high and so contagious. He shed light on things that were amazing and unforgettable. There are so many memories that I have of him that are very special to me. Vince's death made me realize that I was taking life for granted. His death changed the way I view life and the way I live my life. Vince affected my life in so many ways that made me who I am today. He was one of my closest friends and I will never forget him.

Joshua Reid '02

Friend, Teammate, and Brother

There are simply no words which can be written to remember Dr. Urey. Without being able to witness him in action, it is simply impossible to describe the impact he had, both on the academic and personal lives of all of his students. I truly believe that I am a better person just for having known him and I know I will be a better law student having been taught by him. Dr. Urey brought a presence to the classroom, a presence which demanded attention and hard work. He loved to play the devil's advocate and would disagree with you regardless of his personal stance on the issue being discussed. But behind this seemingly rough and overbearing presence, I was always certain of one thing, Dr. Urey cared for me not only as a student, but also as a person. He constantly wanted updates on things outside of the academic realm, whether it be athletics, an update on the weekend's festivities, or even the family. Dr. Urey, thank you so much for all you have done for me and all the other students whose lives you may have made better through all your years at SU. Thank you for all the memories and the laughter. I will never forget you and I will constantly strive during my law school education and my career to be someone you could be proud of. We love you and miss you.

Dr. Nallamotu Vasantkumar

Mr. Kleinsorg,
I doubt very much if you realize what a vast help you have been to me during the past year. You have given me a great deal of confidence in myself by just a little word of encouragement here and there and I'll always be grateful to you. It has been my good fortune to be associated with you and I'm looking forward to continuing our friendship next fall.

Fraternally,
Frank Wolfe '48

In the 52 years following this inscription, Axel Kleinsorg blessed hundreds of people with his life. For the past three and a half years, Axel has been a grandfather for me, a mentor and a dear friend. I was honored to be his last leading lady. The wisdom he shared with myself and anyone who cared to sit for a few moments was priceless. The stories that ranged from directing "Midsummer" to meeting Ingrid Bergman will remain in all those memories who heard them. His love for theater was inspiring. He had plans for shows and scenes until the end, some which will be realized and others which can only be imagined by those who heard him dream of them. He will be sorely missed and yet I know that he is now somewhere with Ingrid on one side and Greta on another gleefully sipping his martini. To all who remain, I put forth this challenge:
Although he may no longer be calmly sitting in the back of the 'House,' always make sure that Axel can hear you.

Amanda Zentz '00

Whether it was an enthusiastic greeting or a warm glance from his glowing eyes, Dr. Nallamotu Vasantkumar's passion for life and dedication to his students were always evident. Dr. Vasantkumar gained the respect of his fellow professors and continued to inspire his students; each and every day he blessed Susquehanna University with his presence. Dr. Vasantkumar will be remembered for his kind, gentle demeanor as he cared for all professors and students alike. To most he was known as Dr.
Vasantkumar, to us he was "Kumar," to us
he was a friend.

The End of the Road is but a Bend in the Road

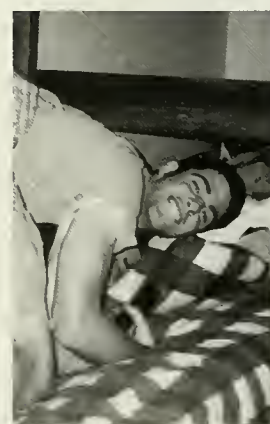

*When we feel we have nothing left to give
And we are sure that the "song has ended"--
When our day seems over and the shadows fall
And the darkness of night has descended,
Where can we go to find the strength
To valiantly keep on trying,
Where can we find the hand that will dry
The tears that the heart is crying--
There's but one place to go and that is to God
And, dropping all pretense and pride,
We can pour out our problems without restraint
And gain strength with Him at our side--
And together we stand at life's crossroads
And view what we think is the end,
But God has a much bigger vision
And he tells us it's only a bend--
For the road goes on and is smoother,
And the "pause in the song " is a "rest,"
And the part that's unsung and unfinished
Is the sweetest and richest and best--
So rest and relax and grow stronger,
Let go and let God share your load,
Your work is not finished or ended,
You've just come to "a bend in the road."*

Smith Hall

This dorm was newly renovated for the incoming 99-00 students. A third floor was added to accomodate the increasing enrollment. This is the hall of freshman. Known for its good times and new found friendships, Smith is remembered by all who ever lived there.

North Hall

This residence hall is the only same sex dorm on campus. Girls roam the halls of this newly renovated dorm. North Hall is one of only two dorms to have Susquehanna's newest technology: the swipe key. Known to the Class of 2000 as Mini Dorm, the females that share this dorm also share a unique bond with one another.

Reflections

"Never could I have imagined the friendships and life-long bonds that flourished between members of the Greek community but now it all seems so obvious. Sister and brotherhood have become such a huge part of all of us. I am sure I share the feelings of the entire Greek community when I say that the years I spent being Greek at SU will forever remain part of my fondest memories."

"I firmly believe that the faculty and staff here at Susquehanna University is one of the best. They have provided me with strength, encouragement and confidence which will remain with me long after graduation. I can only give thanks to the professors that have been a part of my accomplishments."

Faculty & Staff

Dr. Joel Cunningham

Joel Luther Cunningham became Susquehanna's thirteenth president on September 29, 1985. He came to Susquehanna in 1979 as Vice President of Academic Affairs, Dean of Faculty and Professor of Mathematics.

Over the past two decades, Dr. Cunningham devoted himself to all aspects of student life at Susquehanna. He has helped increase the school's endowment, saw the completion of several new buildings and the renovation of others.

On January 28, 2000, President Cunningham announced he would be leaving Susquehanna to take a position in Tennessee. As he moves on to another chapter in his life, Susquehanna University and the Class of 2000 would like to thank him for all his hard work and wish him the best of luck.

We will miss you greatly.

Reflections

"Coming back to Susquehanna early for preseason before the fall semester begins makes fall athletes unique. Because we are all here together before the other students arrive to campus, we have the opportunity to not only prepare for our season, but we also strengthen friendships with fellow fall athletes. I have met so many different people through Susquehanna's athletics and it has made my time here unforgettable."

Reflections

"The spring sports season is probably the shortest season, but has the most jam-packed schedules. The softball season is less than two months long and every team we play is a double-header. This schedule is very intense and often conflicts with class time. The atmosphere of spring season games depends greatly on the weather. On warm sunny days, sports teams seem to be at the top of their game, as well as the fans who come out to support the athletes."

The America Reads! Volunteer Project is devoted to promoting literacy on campus and in the surrounding community. Activities include sending tutors to work with children in grades K-5 in the Selinsgrove Area School District, encouraging children to read through an after-school program at the Selinsgrove Library, and running an annual book drive on campus.

Arts Alive! is a volunteer group dedicated to promoting and encouraging interest in all forms of the arts, both on campus and in the surrounding community. Activities include ushering for music and drama performances, organizing theater productions for local schools, and doing arts and crafts with members of the Assoc. for Retarded Citizens.

Arts Alive!

Asian Student Coalition

ASC's main goal is to bring awareness of Asian Cultures to the SU community. ASC sponsors events such as the Foreign Film Series, Japan at a Glance, and roundtable discussions to promote Asian Awareness. A special event sponsored by the ASC was a presentation on Asian Women entitled "From Dragon Lady to Geisha Girl: Asian Women's Issues."

Black Student Union

Throughout the year, members of BSU have committed themselves to rededicating this organization to educating the SU community and beyond about African and African American heritage. BSU has sponsored and co-sponsored successful events such as the Kwanzaa Celebration, a film and discussion on a film entitled "Four Little Girls" and also Umoja, an African dance, percussion and singing ensemble.

The Brotherhood

The Brotherhood is a men's minority group that provides a safe haven for minority men, but not limited to minority men, to discuss issues and concerns. Their main focus and goal is to educate the SU campus on issues of diversity and multiculturalism. Events sponsored by The Brotherhood include: poets, speakers and plays. Along with their Annual Race Relations Forum and "A Black Symposium," called It Takes a Village.

Charlie's

Charlie's is a non-profit organization whose primary purpose is to provide students on campus with an alternative for night life. Typical functions and activities that Charlie's offers SU students include: Friday night movies sponsored by SAC, various performers ranging from student bands, poetry readings, professional musicians, professional numerology and games nights. During the days in which programs are not taking place, Charlie's provides a relaxing atmosphere for people to watch their favorite TV shows, hang out with friends or study. Charlie's serves its customers with a broad menu emphasizing coffee beverages and gourmet desserts.

Chapel Council

Chapel Council is a religious life organization that includes Hillel, Catholic Campus Ministries, Chancel Drama, Handbells, InterVarsity Christian Fellowship, and Acts 29. Chancel Drama works to support and encourage religious life activities at Susquehanna.

Circle K is a volunteer service organization, aimed at helping those in the community. Activities include dinners and parties with patients at Danville State Hospital. In addition, it does a lot to help children in the area. Circle K is also part of a worldwide crusade to help end Iodine Deficiency Disorder in Third World countries.

Circle K

Computer Consultants

Computer Consultants is a volunteer group on campus, under the umbrella of SUN Council, that works to both assist and educate SU and its surrounding community on computer-related issues. Computer Consultants believe that computers will only get more and more popular in both the home and the workplace, therefore it is their goal to help people get the most out of their technology and to be there when things go amuck with their equipment. They offer various services on campus, such as the BOB lab and the BYTE hotline.

The Crusader

Officially renamed The Crusader 41 years ago, the weekly newspaper has been a consistent award winner. During the 1999-2000 school year, more than 80 students were involved in keeping faculty, staff and students informed of campus and community events.

The Diversity Council

The Diversity Council is the umbrella group that unifies the eleven multicultural organizations on campus. Their main accomplishment this year was launching a newsletter called "Unity News," which had three editions circulated campus-wide. The mission of the Diversity Council is to build a community that by supporting and recognizing the contributions of traditionally unrepresented groups.

French Club

The French Club is open to all students who have an appreciation of the French language and culture. This year has been tons of fun! The members celebrated National French Week, the Epiphany and Mardi Gras. Other events for this semester include a day in New York City, a study abroad session and the showing of a French film. Their biggest plan is a trip to Quebec next year for Carnival.

Geology Club

The Susquehanna University Geoclub is involved in a wide variety of activities. The club is a co-organizer of the Envirofair, tutors geology, lobbies for environmental issues, hikes, camps, canoes, visits local quarries and caves, and sponsors Earthweek on campus.

Hillel

Hillel is the Jewish Student Organization on campus. It was formed about a year ago and since then has brought many Jewish-related events to campus. Some of their events this year included Shabbat Dinners, High Holiday gatherings, Hanukah and Purim parties, retreats with Bucknell and Bloomsburg and a performance by The Old World Folk Band.

The mission of HOLA is to teach the SU population about the unique and fascinating cultures of the numerous Spanish-speaking countries. Some events that HOLA sponsors are the annual Latino Symposium, where faculty and students are treated to a day full of celebration of Latino cultures, the annual discussion of a famous Spanish novel in a Latino restaurant, plus many other things.

Hispanic Organization of Latino Awareness

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship is a gathering of Christians from numerous church denominations who enjoy worshiping and committing their lives to Jesus Christ. Weekly meetings involve Praise & Worship, a discussion or activity and prayer. These meetings, in addition to their "night outs," provide fellow Christians with a fun and relaxing atmosphere in which they can express their faith in our Lord and Savior.

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship

The purpose of the Investment Club is to bring together students with a common interest in the financial markets and advance their knowledge through guest speakers, visits to major brokerage houses and government agencies, and through the management of an actual investment portfolio.

Investment Club

The management club is a student organization that provides opportunities to learn about the business world outside the classroom. All SU business students are welcome to join and help plan and participate in activities. The group spent a weekend in Baltimore where it toured both Black & Decker and Rukert Terminals Corporation.

Management Club

Some activities of NOW include attending conferences and summits on the state and national level, sponsor events for National Love Your Body Day and raise awareness of safety issues on campus. NOW educates the public through the use of art, films, performers and speakers.

National Organization for Women

Outdoors Club

The Outdoors Club remained very active this year, with several trips attracting 20 or more students and faculty. In the fall, whitewater rafting on the Lehigh River drew a large crowd, as did night skiing at Camelback and a day trip to Alpine Resort. The club also went camping along Penn's Creek for Halloween weekend and went hiking several times, most notably, to Ricketts Glen State Park to hike along the waterfalls. In addition, the club adopted a new constitution that will allow for larger membership.

The P.E.P. Team educates and informs the SU community about safe and responsible alcohol drinking and other related issues. Some of their programs include Alcohol Awareness Week, the Great American Smokeout, and residence hall programs. They also help write an annual drug and alcohol newspaper that goes out to local high schools and middle schools. This year, the P.E.P Team formed the S.U.P.E.R. Center (SU Peer Education Resource Center). They attend an annual conference to become peer certified.

Peers Educating Peers

Public Relations Student Society of America and Sterling Communications

PRSSA has earned the distinction of being the preeminent public relations student organization in the world. With more than 5,000 students in approximately 200 chapters nationwide, PRSSA is proud of its reputation as a national, pre-professional organization. Our chapter's activities include national/regional conferences, a speaker's series, workshops, competitions and networking opportunities.

During the 1999-2000 school year, Sterling Communications has worked to rebuild its image and define its mission and goals. By doing so, the organization has significantly increased its number of clients. Sterling has provided public relations services to campus organization and has also begun communicating with businesses in the Selinsgrove community who are in need of its services.

Psychology Club

The Psychology Club has two main purposes. The first is to encourage students interested in psychology to interact in a setting that facilitates shared communication. The second is to advance the cause of psychology by encouraging members to become involved in the professional activities of psychologists, such as participating in research and attending psychology conferences.

S.A.V.E's goal is to promote the awareness of our environmental issues to both the campus and the community. They provide the recycling of aluminum, plastic, and glass in the academic and residence buildings as well as the annual conservation dinner in the dining hall. S.A.V.E also does various other activities throughout the school year, especially during Earth Week.

Student Awareness of the Value of the Environment

Student Activities Committee

Executive Board

General Committee

S.A.C. is the organization responsible for bringing the majority of the events to campus. They organize the annual Spring Weekend, Fall Frenzy, Spotlight Talent Show and concerts. Other favorite events sponsored by S.A.C. include Carnival Night, Casino Night and the Battle of the Bands. The Student Activities Committee provides the popular movies that are shown at Charlie's every Friday night. Additional events this year included the Madman Show, the band Public Service and hypnotist Ronny Romm. S.A.C. also sponsors some Charlie's events, such as Karaoke Night, a masseuse and various musical performers. The executive board does the majority of the programming and working with agents, while the general committee helps with promotions and provide a lot of input on programming ideas. General committee events this past year include the Boo Bash and SU Feud.

Senior Friends

Senior Friends is a volunteer project for the senior citizens at the Selinsgrove Senior Center. They go to the center and play games, talk with the seniors, do crafts, help with the workings of the center and put on holiday parties, such as the annual Halloween costume party. This year they will invite the seniors to a dinner at the Senior Friends house.

Student Alumni Association

The SAA is a relatively new organization on campus. It is dedicated to closing the gap between students and SU alumni and establishing close ties between students and alumni. Their activities center around their dedication to keep a connection between alumni and students where many different opportunities could arise. They work closely with their advisor, the director of Alumni Relations, to encourage interaction between the two groups. Through this interaction, they provide students with a network of alumni contacts who may prove to be valuable resources when they are looking for a job or internship.

Sexual Diversity Awareness Coalition

SDAC works to create an awareness of and respect for sexual diversity. Because of the prevalence of heterosexism and homophobic attitudes, SDAC recognizes the difficulties homosexual and bisexual students may have in realizing and celebrating all aspects of their personhood. By providing educational programs, SDAC will combat myths, prejudgements and fears about homosexuality and bisexuality in order to dispel them. They sponsor lectures, panels, residence hall programs, films and many other activities.

The Sisterhood

The Sisterhood is a womanist organization that educates about issues concerning women of color. The Sisterhood has donated money to the National Breast Cancer fund, sponsored a program called Homework Help in Pine Meadows and had a speaker to discuss diversity and gender issues.

SPAA presents Residence Hall programs and participates in campus-wide awareness fairs. Each year, an AIDS vigil is presented in conjunction with World AIDS Day and is open to the campus and community. PAA's goal is to provide AIDS education in an accessible, friendly manner.

Students Promoting AIDS Awareness

Student Association for Cultural Awareness

SACA is a volunteer service project that cultivates diversity and explores cultures on the campus and in the community. Currently, their primary service project is at Pine Meadows, a nearby housing community. SACA has provided 84 multicultural texts and committed more than 400 service hours to the project this year. They are a proactive member of the Diversity Council and have been serving the SU community for more than a decade.

The Sociology Club is there for anyone who needs help in a sociology class, as well as being very active in the school and Selinsgrove community, and participating in volunteer projects.

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association is the official legislative body for the students of Susquehanna University. The purpose of this organization is to act as the principle governing body of the students and organizations on campus. It was designed for the betterment of the University, its students and surrounding community. SGA provides the students with an opportunity to voice their opinions on important issues, get answers to pertinent questions, and make a positive contribution to the Susquehanna community.

Students Against Drunk Driving

SADD is a new group on campus, created by a small group of students concerned with the dangers of drunk driving, particularly in the Susquehanna Campus community. Its goal is to provide Susquehanna students and community with the proper education to make logical decisions concerning drinking and driving. SADD has approximately 20 active members, including its advisor Stephany Hooper. The club has just recently gained SGA approval and since then has participated in campus activities, such as the annual Health Fair and is looking forward to expanding its membership and activities into the 2000-01 school year. The members of SADD would like to thank everyone for making SADD's first year on campus a success.

Study Buddy

Study Buddy is a student volunteer organization whose members are paired with Selinsgrove Area Middle School students for tutoring and mentoring. Study Buddy also holds after school socials and an annual spaghetti dinner for the students and their families.

SU International

SU International's mission is to encourage cultural awareness among the members of the SU community and to provide the members of the group an opportunity to share their cultural experience in order to promote mutual understanding and cooperation. Some activities include: the Gallery of Holiday Traditions, Japan at a Glance and International Food Night.

SU Review

The Susquehanna Review is the University's annually published literary magazine. It includes poetry, drama and photography by student contributors, and is compiled by a staff of student editors and readers.

SU Rhapsody

SU Rhapsody is a coed a cappella group that was formed 3 years ago by Emma Thompson and Jeremy Heidenreich as a way to establish and promote A Cappella music for anyone who wants to sing. They sing a cappella arrangements of modern "radio" music, usually arranged by the members themselves, and do concerts and performances.

"The Ultimate Frisbee club has accomplished more than any of us could have hoped during the Fall and Spring semesters in our first successful season in over five years. From our beginning in the Fall with only a few experienced players, to the end of the Spring season where we played competitively with schools as prestigious as MIT and Boston College, the team grew in leaps and bounds. We played in about nine tournaments, including the one we hosted here in Selinsgrove, with nine teams attending. This year was a great success and the team had more fun than we dreamed possible." ~Dylan Zeigler

Ultimate Frisbee Club

WomanSpeak organizes Take Back the Night, The Clothesline Project, activities at Haven Ministries and brings speakers and performers to campus. In addition, WomanSpeak talks to College 101 classes about safety on campus.

WomenSpeak

WQSU, FM 88.9 The Pulse

WQSU is a non-commercial, listener supported station operated by Susquehanna University students, professionals and volunteers. At a radiated power of 12,000 watts, WQSU is the third most powerful college radio station in Pennsylvania. The station serves central Pennsylvania with a variety of modern rock, country and bluegrass, news and sports, and other types of specialty programming. It has been fulfilling the goal of serving community interests and providing great music for 33 years.

University Choir

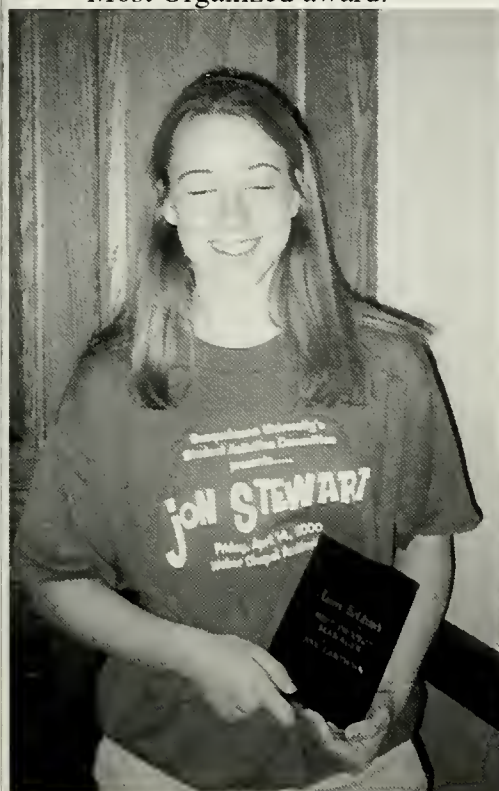

The University Choir serves as a training laboratory for musicians both in and outside of the School of Arts, Humanities and Communications. With over two-fifths of the choir representing majors other than music, it truly embodies the liberal arts mission of the University. The 1999-2000 performances of the choir included their Spring Tour 2000, Morten Lauridsen's Lux Aterna and a joint performance of the University Chorale during the televised 1999 Christmas Candlelight Service. Under the direction of Cyril Stretlansky, the Choir Tour 2000 took them through 11 states, performing to large and appreciative audiences at 14 locations. The choir will graduate a large number of seniors who will be missed, including choir manager, Mark Yerger, and student directors John Stroud, Theresa Shirk, Bryan Ruthfuss, Jon O'Harrow and David Fontes, but a strong underclass pull of talented musicians are prepared to continue the choir's ever-growing reputation for excellence.

"This year was different. Everyone on the Lanthorn Staff was new and with team work and the pure dedication of some members, a corner stone was turned. People don't realize how hard it is to produce a 200 page publication from scratch. I just want to say, to those of you who spent so much time and cared even when others didn't, THANK YOU!"

Reflections

"I quickly learned that Susquehanna is much more than a place. It is more than a school and certainly more than a parcel of land and buildings in Selinsgrove, PA. It has a life of its own that emanates from the collection of students and faculty and their diverse personalities. Each of us has breathed life into the bricks and mortar that we have called home for the past four years. As we graduate, we must always remember that we are leaving with much more than we walked here with."

As you journey through life, choose your destinations well, but do not hurry there.

You will arrive soon enough.

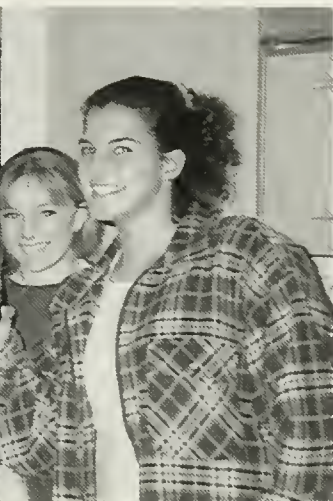

Wander the back roads and forgotten paths,
keeping your destination in your heart, like the fixed point of a compass.

Seek out new voices, strange sights, and ideas foreign to your own.

Such things are riches for the soul.

And if, upon arrival,
you find that your destination is not exactly as you had dreamed,
do not be disappointed.

Think of all you would have missed but for the journey there, and know that the true worth of your travels lies not in where you come to be at the journey's end, but in who you came to be along the way.

LYNDA K. DICKENS

TO LYNDA:

*Congratulations on this milestone in your life.
I'm very proud of you and your accomplishments.
You've grown into a lovely young lady and I wish you all the best in your future endeavors.*

LOVE, "Laverne"

For Lynda/Rosebud/BB:

*I am so very proud of you and, of course, you know that Gram and Grandma are as well.
Remember to always enjoy your journey, and may that journey always be overflowing with joyful moments. The following will help you on your journey:*

*You can do all things through Christ who strengthens you. Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not to your own understanding.
Acknowledge Him in all that you do and He will direct your paths.
Love, Mom*

MELISSA M. DEFINNIS

Congratulations on another milestone! As you continue your journey through life may you find happiness and a sense of accomplishment in all you do. You bring so much joy to our lives and make us very proud. We look forward to sharing new challenges and opportunities with you. May you be richly blessed.

*With our love,
Mom, Dad, Tom & Jamie*

IAN DRUMMOND

*Dear Ian,
Believe in yourself and live true to your own beliefs.
The future is yours to create.
We Love You, Mom and Dad*

SARAH GREGONIS

*Congratulations, Sweetie Pie! We are so proud of you! Our wish for you is a future filled with love, happiness, success, a zest for life, and the strength and courage to face all of the challenges that you may encounter along the way. Always remember how much you are cherished, and never drive faster than your guardian angel can fly.
Love, Mom and Dad*

JULIE GRETH

*Dear Julz,
When one door closes, another door opens. As you continue through those open doors, follow your dreams and believe in yourself. And, always remember we are incredibly proud of you. We love you and wish you ever happiness life has to offer.
Love and Kisses, Mom and Dad*

ARNAUD LOOS

To My Son Arnaud:

Over 2 decades ago, I gazed with wonder, pride and love at the tiny newborn in my arms. Today, your graduation from school and childhood, I recall the joy and sunshine you brought me these many years, as I look with wonder, pride and love at the man you've become. From this new beginning, may your adult life be filled with the happiness you gave me and the love we shared.

Mom

NOELLE MARCONI

You have always been a precious daughter and sister and you have brought much love and happiness into our lives. May life fill you with a future filled with love, prosperity, happiness and success. We love you and we will always be here for you. Happiness Always!

Love, Mom, Dad, David, Kristine and Todd

KERRI E. MATTERN

Kerri, we are so very proud of you. Not only of the hard work and determination that you've shown in the last 4 years, but we are also expecially proud of the beautiful young woman you've become. Congratulations and best wishes for your future.

MEGHAN ANN MCGINNIS

Congratulations Meghan!

We are very proud of all your accomplishments. Our love and best wishes. May the future hold success, love and happiness for you now and always.

Love, Mom, Dad and Kristen

KRISTY MONTALBANO

You have taken a dream and with your hard work and quiet determination create the reality that you hold in your hands today - your college graduation. Take time to reflect on the past; on obstacles you've had to overcome. And on the good times you have had. Every smile, every tear, each moment you'll always want to remember. The friends you have made over the past four years will always be with you. Because the gift of memory will keep them forever alive in your heart. So as you end this chapter in your life and begin another; Know that we are very proud of you, Babe. May all your hopes and dreams come true. Keep smiling.

Congratulations and we love ya' 2T
